The Cover: APL’s role in education emanates from being a research and development organization of a world-renowned university dedicated to making critical contributions in support of the nation’s welfare. A wide variety of educational activities have been created to support the university in its education mission, enhance the Laboratory’s ability to attract and maintain a highly skilled workforce, and foster an interest among young people in the fields of science and engineering. (Cover designed by Kenneth R. Moscati; photography by Edward G. Whitman.)