The Warfare Analysis Laboratory has been developed and operated by the Joint Warfare Analysis Department as a Laboratory facility. WAL 2000, building on over three decades of experience, is expanding both its technological capabilities and physical environment to better serve APL's sponsors in the 21st century.